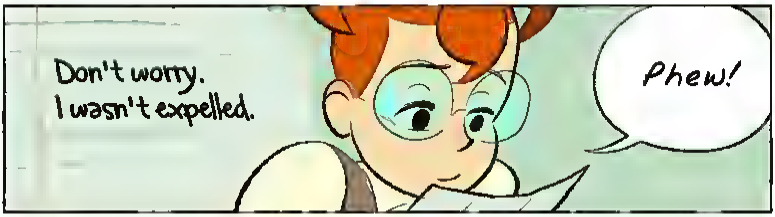
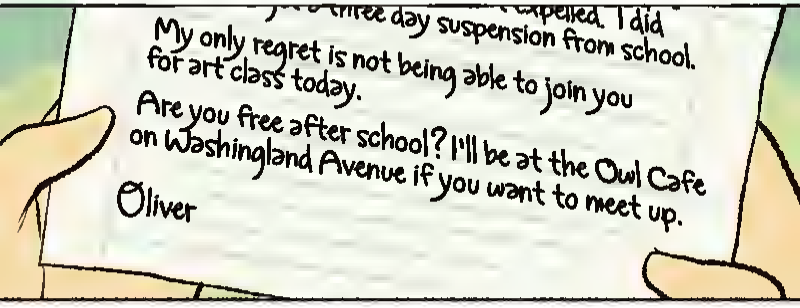
Dear Amy,
Yesterday after we parted ways I was promptly caught by campus security.
Oh no!



Don't worry. I wasn't expelled.
Phew!

I did however get a three day suspension from school.
Aww...



three day suspension from school.
My only regret is not being able to join you for art class today.
Are you free after school? I'll be at the Owl Cafe on Washingland Avenue if you want to meet up.
Oliver

It must have been a lot of trouble sneaking this note in here. I wonder why he didn't just send me a text or something...

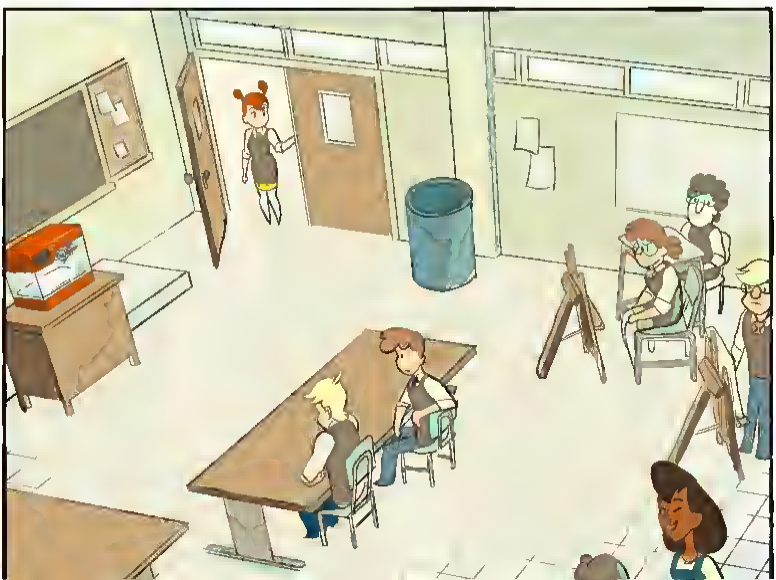
Amy! Where are you going?
I'm just headed off to school...

RINNGG!!



Wow! Very bold, Amy.
Good work.

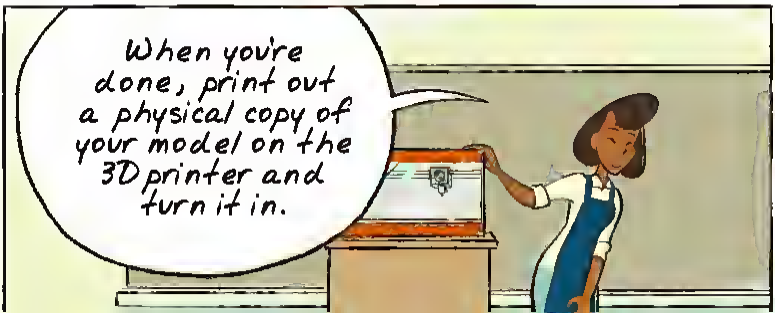
Kumquats and a chicken salad sandwich. Your favorite.

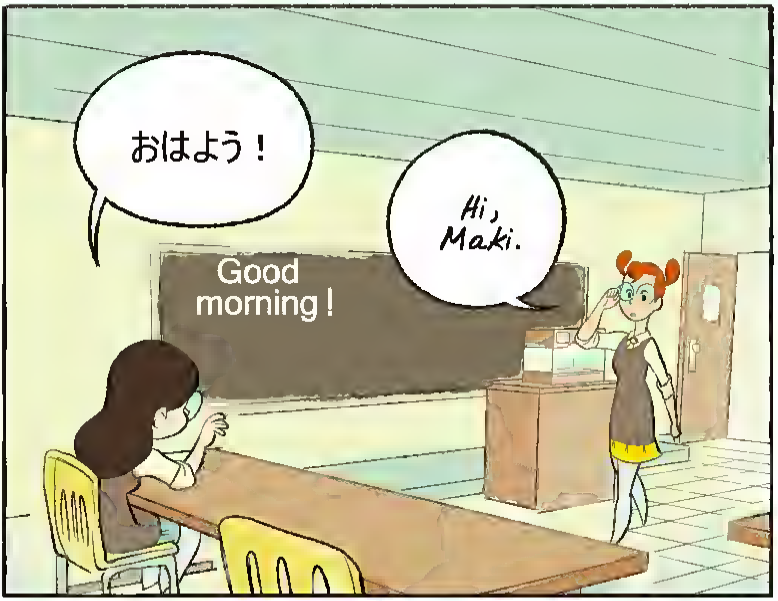
Thanks, Mom.
Have a great day, sweetie.

Today's assignment is to make a sculpture that represents a feeling you have. Don't be afraid to express yourself! Be brave! Be bold!



When you're done, print out a physical copy of your model on the 3D printer and turn it in.

Hmmm.



おはよう！
Hi, Maki.

Digital sculpture proves to be a lot more difficult than I thought, but after a fair amount of struggle I manage to create a fat, boxy thing that reminds me of a cactus.

VSSSH!
